Public Speaking for the Fire Service Personnel Workshop

The ability to influence others with the spoken word is taking on an ever-increasing importance. Nowhere is competent public speaking more critical than in the fire service where,

- Firefighters are expected to present safety programs to the general public
- Officers are thrust into the media spotlight, and
- Chief Officers are required to compete with other professional managers for public support.

Public speaking For Fire Service Personnel is a fast paced, interactive opportunity where participants will,

- Gain “tricks of the trade” that will capture the attention of audiences,
- Learn how to construct presentations that will leave a lasting impression,
- Develop public speaking skills in a safe and supportive environment,
- Begin to overcome public speaking anxiety,
- Receive feedback on your personal public speaking strengths and challenges.
